Inclusive Practices: Arts Education for All Abilities

As districts make strides in becoming more inclusive, there is an opportunity for students of all abilities to thrive through arts education! Join Arts Ed NJ, NJCIE, and NJPSA/FEA for this co-sponsored virtual series. This is a unique opportunity to learn directly from arts educators, supervisors, and other educational professionals about a range of topics that are most relevant to inclusive practices in arts education right now. This series is designed to assist supervisors, administrators, as well as arts educators, to better support teaching and learning for all students, and build common vocabulary that will help districts to advocate and plan for high quality arts education.

In each 75 minute session, participants will gain knowledge and useful tools from the panelist and engage in dialogue about effective ways to apply the learning. Register today to join with other practitioners taking action to create a supportive, inclusive environment for all learners!

Audience: this workshop is open to administrators and arts educators.
